

Contents

VOLUME 19, NO. 1–2

Acknowledgments 1

The State of Statelessness Research: A Human Rights Imperative 3–10

Mark Manly and Laura van Waas

No Legal Bond, No Family Life 11–19

Zahra Albarazi

Sinking into Statelessness 20–25

Heather Alexander and Jonathan Simon

Statelessness and the Lives of the Children of Migrants in Sabah,
East Malaysia 26–34

Catherine Allerton

On the Protection of Stateless Persons in Germany 35–51

Katia Bianchini

Statelessness in the European Union: The Case of Cuban Migrants 52–63

Giulia Bittoni

Beyond International Law: The Role of Multinational Corporations in Reducing the Number of Stateless Children 64–73

Mark K. Brewer

Using Oral History Methods to Document the Subjective Experiences of Statelessness: The Case of Stateless Chinese-Bruneian Immigrants in Vancouver 74–80

Amanda R. Cheong

Statelessness and Conservation: Exploring the Implications of an International Governance Agenda 81–89

Julian Clifton, Greg Acciaioli, Helen Brunt, Wolfram Dressler, Michael Fabinyi and Sarinda Singh

Statelessness and Microfinance: Can Microfinance Improve the Living Conditions of the Stateless? 90–97

Brian P. Colgan and Ondřej Kolínský

Stateless Indigenous People(s): The Right to a Nationality, Including Their Own 98–107

Willem van Genugten, Anna Meijknecht and Bas Rombouts

- Statelessness at Home: The Story of a Stateless Student at Tilburg Law School 108–116
Sangita Jaghai
- Preventing and Addressing Statelessness: In the Context of International Surrogacy Arrangements 117–126
Jyothi Kanics
- Statelessness as a Lack of Functioning Citizenship 127–135
Lindsey Kingston
- To Belong or Not to Belong: Historical Reflections on Foreigners, Citizenship and Law 136–152
Raymond Kubben
- Refugees International: A Case Study on NGO Advocacy to Venerate Nationality Rights 153–162
Maureen Lynch and Sarnata Reynolds
- Citizenship Deprivation in the United Kingdom: Statelessness and Terrorism 163–170
Sandra Mantu
- The Stateless Kurds of Syria: Ethnic Identity and National I.D. 171–181
Thomas McGee
- Accessing Malagasy Citizenship: The Nationality Code and Its Impact on The Karana 182–193
Caroline McInerney
- Moving Statelessness Forward on the International Agenda: The Example of Hungary 194–202
Tamás Molnár
- Facilitated Naturalization of Stateless Persons 203–211
Eva Mrekajová
- Networking for Change: The development of the European Network on Statelessness and Perspectives on Developing Other Regional and Global Statelessness Coalitions 212–222
Chris Nash
- The Indignity of a False Citizenship: Self-Induced Statelessness in Puerto Rico 223–235
Katharine Nylund
- Key Threats of Statelessness in the Post-Secession Sudanese and South Sudanese Nationality Regimes 236–247
Mike Sanderson
- A Personal Story about Statelessness 248–260
Srinuan Soakhamnuan

Myanmar's Democratic Transition: Peril or Promise for the Stateless Rohingya? 261–275

Katherine G. Southwick

Questioning de facto Statelessness: By Looking At de facto Citizenship 276–284

Jason Tucker

Collective Victimisation of Stateless Peoples: The Added Value of the Victim Label 285–293

Zelda van der Velde and Rianne Letschert

Benchmarking the Protection against Statelessness in Europe: Comparative Findings 294–302

Olivier Vonk, Maarten Vink and René de Groot

Exploring the Interaction between Statelessness, Legal Empowerment and Human Trafficking 303–312

Laura van Waas, Conny Rijken and Martin Gramatikov